DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's response filed on 06/07/2007 has been fully considered. Claims 1-6 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ota (JP 2001-088430).
4. Ota discloses a recording material comprising a transparent base material [0018] and an ink absorbing layer provided on the base material, wherein the ink absorbing material comprises one or more of benzotriazole compounds listed in paragraph [0009]. The amount of the benzotriazole compound in the ink absorbing layer is 2-15 wt% [0015]. Ink jet printing method is used to print on the recording material [0026].

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's argument is based on that Ota does not disclose or suggest anything that encompasses "an interior ornament for a vehicle" or "an interior panel for a vehicle". This argument is not persuasive for the following reason. Even if the claimed invention is directed to "an interior ornament for a vehicle" or "an interior panel for a vehicle" Ota satisfies the claimed structural limitations, and it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987). For the above reason claims 1-6 stand rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ravichandran et al. (US 5,977,219) in view of Ota (JP 2001-088430).

8. Ravichandran discloses benzotriazole UV absorbers incorporated into automotive coating (abstract). A composition containing benzotriazole UV absorbers is provided on a paper or plastic film to form a layer absorptive for ink, and ink jet printing method is used for printing on the ink absorptive layer. Ravichandran does not disclose benzotriazole UV absorbers as recited in claims 1 and 4.

9. Ota discloses a recording material comprising a transparent base material [0018] and an ink absorbing layer provided on the base material, wherein the ink absorbing material comprises one or more of benzotriazole compounds listed in paragraph [0009].

Art Unit: 1774

The amount of the benzotriazole compound in the ink absorbing layer is 2-15 wt% [0015]. Ink jet printing method is used to print on the recording material [0026].

10. Ravichandran and Ota are analogous art because they are from a similar problem solving area, in relation to preventing bronzing. At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to combine the benzotriazole compound of Ota with the invention of Ravichandran in order to prevent bronzing of the printed surface.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's argument is based on that the Examiner has not established a prima facie case of obviousness. This argument is not persuasive for the following reason. The examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). The test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981). In this case the combination of Ravichandran and Ota teaches the claimed structural limitations, (i.e., a substrate, an ink acceptance layer containing the claimed benzotriazole, and a printed layer). For the above reason claims 1-6 stand rejected.

Conclusion

12. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

13. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
